

iEnergy® Program Management

Modernize the way you design, implement, and evaluate programs

Customer programs are an effective way for utilities to engage people on initiatives like energy efficiency, renewables, DERs, electrification, and more. But many utilities are still managing these programs with siloed, outdated systems that are costly and time-consuming.

WHY USE iENERGY PROGRAM MANAGEMENT?

Automate and streamline program management

Make day-to-day management more cost-effective by reducing manual data entry and human error—without the need for custom development.

Improve efficiency and increase program participation

Give customers a fast, simple way to enroll in programs, find information, and speed rebate time. Easily set up auto-generated notifications.

Boost visibility and reduce compliance risk

View your entire portfolio or specific programs, and accurately report on performance to internal stakeholders and regulatory agencies.

One platform. Every program.

iEnergy Program Management is a powerful cloud-based solution that allows you to manage the entire program lifecycle with ease. From engaging customers and service providers to monitoring program performance, it acts as a modern control center that delivers cost savings and efficiency.
